Course Description:

This course introduces the macro theories of organization and the principles of organization structure and design. It explores the organization as a whole and its relationship with the environment. Topics discussed includes: organizations and organization theory, organizational purpose and structural design, open-system elements, organizational culture and ethnical value, innovation and change, decision making, conflict, power and politics. Both theoretical knowledge and practical applications are equally emphasized in this course.

Course outcomes:

- 1. Understand the organizational theory and principles of organizational design
- 2. Define different organizational structures
- 3. Explain the challenges of organizational design
- 4. Apply critical thinking skills to develop structural recommendations
- 5. Describe the interaction of organizational designs and competitive strategies
- 6. Explain how organizations both affect and are affected by their environments
- 7. Work as a team to complete a research project, cases, and exercises

Course Materials:

1. Textbook

Organization Theory and Design, 3rd Canadian Ed., by Daft, Richard L., Armstrong, Ann. (2016) Nelson Education.

2. In-class handouts

Course Format and Requirements:

Class time will be used for a combination of lectures, class discussions, and student presentations. Students are strongly encouraged to participate in class discussion. Please do not use electronic devices such as phones, iPads, computers, etc. during the lectures.

Attendance

Attendance at lectures is vital to get a thorough understanding of the material, but we will not check-up on you by circulating an attendance roster. Good attendance will be rewarded, however, in that all quiz questions and most exam questions will be drawn from the lectures. Furthermore, only those who attend class can earn points for participation.

Course Assignments:

Quizzes

Quizzes will usually consist of True-False, multiple choices and short answer essay questions. 6 quizzes will be given and the lowest will be dropped.

Case Study and Discussion

During the lectures, the instructor will illustrate various case and put forward discussion questions to enrich the class and deepen students' understanding. Students are encouraged to actively participate the class discussion regarding different topics. The objective of this part is to demonstrate your preparation to the course, your understanding to course materials and your analytical and critical thinking.

Team Project

In teams of 3 to 4, you will analyze a case or a set of cases by applying appropriate theories to generate insights about organizational processes, design, and change.

The objective of this project is for students to demonstrate what they have learnt in the class and furthermore deepen their understanding of course materials. This part will also test students' ability of applying theoretical knowledge to analyze and solve real world organization design issues.

The final deliverables includes a group presentation about 10-15 minutes long, to demonstrate your in-depth discussion in the case, and a final case write-up.

Noticing that, an effective case write-up begins with an introduction which states the issues of the case and the points to be discussed. The body of the analysis develops the ideas discussing the pros and cons of solutions and offering a recommendation. The conclusion summarizes the essential elements of the analysis.

Exams

One midterm exam and a final will be given. They may not be taken early, made-up, or turned in late. Students must comply with all applicable instructions to receive credit. The Exams will include multiple choices, discussion questions and case problems. During the exams, each student must work individually without consulting others.

Academic Integrity:

Students are encouraged to study together, and to discuss lecture topics with one another, but all other work should be completed independently.

Students are expected to adhere to the standards of academic honesty and integrity that are described in the Shanghai Normal University's Academic Conduct Code. Any work suspected of violating the standards of the Academic Conduct Code will be reported to the Dean's Office. Penalties for violating the Academic Conduct Code may include dismissal from the program. All students have an individual responsibility to know and understand the provisions of the Academic Conduct Code.

Special Needs or Assistance:

Please contact the Administrative Office immediately if you have a learning disability, a medical issue, or any other type of problem that prevents professors from seeing you have learned the course material. Our goal is to help you learn, not to penalize you for issues which mask your learning.
